Remember the “Culture of Goodwill.” Simple enough: be nice and work together.

Here are the answers to the word game for members to find and put together. "Delegation strength for convention shall be based on total membership at close of books. True or False."

Set a time limit for members to work on the game, then have a short discussion afterwards regarding the answers! Be sure to have access to a copy of the national constitution and bylaws or unit handbook for these answers. You can use this as a template for other word games for constitution and bylaws, membership, the American Legion Auxiliary Unit Handbook or ALA programs. I've bolded the answers for you (the game committee) to find in this sample. This game is set in a table using 'Word.' Just remove the 'bold' from the words before making copies for the members. Set up teams, and give copies of this to each team member. Or, you can give a copy to each member to play. Set a time limit. The team/member to find the answers first, wins! And, be SURE THE INFORMATION USED IS CORRECT!

Ladies, "The Culture of Goodwill" comes from the Centennial Plan, or Long Range Strategic Plan that has been presented and discussed for several years at meetings, especially department and national meetings.

Information from the Centennial Plan would be a very good choice to use for these games, also.

We are in a critical situation in our organization. If we don't turn around the negativity, and start to work together in a positive and goodhearted attitude towards each other, our organization will cease to exist in 20-30 years, because no one will want to join the American Legion Auxiliary and help work our programs, thus helping our veterans, active military, their families and our communities. Do you want this to happen?
